Thanks for Attending!

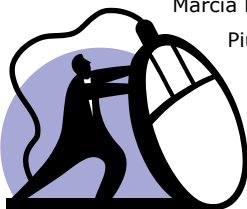

Thank you for attending the Non-Public Technology Meeting on October 26th. I really appreciate the time and valuable insight you invest: It truly makes our technology community stronger. Plus, it is so enjoyable to visit with each of you face-to-face.

A special thank you is in order to Mike Curtis for providing us with information regarding Office World products. It is always interesting to hear about new technology products and I think Mr. Curtis has a solid understanding of what schools need.

The Name-Game

Thank you for submitting possible names for our newsletter. During the Non-Public Technology Meeting, participants casted a vote and selected “Tech Talk”. Congratulations to Cathy Kersher of St. Joseph School of Sylvania for submitting the chosen name. St. Joseph School will receive $200 in free NWOCA training either one admission to the NWOCA Teacher Technology Academy 2005, vouchers to attend ten NWOCA training classes during the school year, or one two hour on-site training session.

Training is Just a “Click” Away!

Marcia Reed has invited NWOCA to provide a series of computer software training at St. Pius X School’s Media Center beginning January 2005. The series will be held every Tuesday beginning January 11th from 3:30pm – 5:30pm where each participant will be using an iMac that is operating Office 2001. The training is opened to any employee of a Non-Public School that subscribes to NWOCA. Because the training is being offered to all Non-Public Schools, the fee for the training will be covered by the Non-Public General Fund. Seats are limited, so please register early by contacting Julianne Lange at lange@nwoca.org. The following is a brief schedule:

January 11, 2005	Microsoft Word FUNdamentals
January 18, 2005	Microsoft Excel FUNdamentals
January 25, 2005	Microsoft Word Mail Merge
February 1, 2005	UnitedStreaming
February 8, 2005	Microsoft PowerPoint
